#1 WITH ROOFERS FOR OVER 70 YEARS

A.J. CROOKSTON

J.R. CROOKSTON

ABOUT OUR COMPANY

The original AJC Hatchet was invented by the late A.J. Crookston. A.J. started out making hatchets for his own crew and eventually began selling them to other roofers as the advantages of this tool became known.

A.J.'s son Jim took over the company in 1962. A successful roofing contractor, Jim began adding tools to the AJC line, most of his own design. During this time, AJC expanded its line beyond hatchets and became a supplier of a full line of professional grade roofing tools.

Today, AJC is still family owned and operated. Times have changed, but our goals have remained the same: we simply want to offer our dealers the best roofing products combined with great service.

Our dealers are the reason we are in business. This is why we feature same day shipping and strive to make doing business with us as easy as possible. We believe that the value of a good tool is about more than price. We sell products that professionals depend on to get the job done. AJC products carry a guarantee on material and workmanship and we stand behind their ability to compete in the marketplace. If our products do not sell for you or do not perform for your customers we will take them back. No questions asked, no restocking fees.

We value your input. If you think there's something we can do better, let us know. If there's a product we should stock or a tool we should manufacture, please give us a call.
